The purpose of Domestic Violence Awareness Month is to build awareness about the societal and personal impacts of domestic violence in our community and workplace

- Domestic violence is a community problem, involving the emotional and physical abuse of
  - children and young adults
  - domestic partners
  - the elderly
- You may know someone who is a victim of abuse
- It may have happened to you
- Our responsibility is to provide a safe workplace for everyone within the ORNL community. This may include
  - supporting coworkers affected by domestic violence
  - sharing information about life-altering alternatives
- You can make a difference by becoming more aware and by offering your support

While the majority of domestic violence is against women and children, relationship violence also crosses gender lines...
