

Technical Support

Donald Todd, Environmental Sciences

For both recent and sustained excellence in the support of environmental change research, including the design, installation, operation, and disassembly of the world's largest and longest-running precipitation experiment, and for his commitment to understanding basic mechanisms