

Science and Technology

Distinguished Engineer

Gerard M. Ludtka, Materials Science and Technology Division

For visionary and pioneering work demonstrating thermomagnetic processing as a new and enabling synthesis, catalysis, and processing approach to customize microstructure and properties at the atomistic-through- macroscopic scales