Third Announcement:
International Workshop on Requirements for Next Generation
Plasma-Material Interaction Test Stands in Fusion Research
August 31 – September 2, 2010
at ORNL

Dear Colleague:

Thank you for your response to the earlier announcements of the International Workshop on Requirements for Next Generation Plasma-Material Interaction Test Stands in Fusion Research. The response to our meeting has been excellent with representatives participating from Europe, China, Japan, Korea and the USA. Currently, we are expecting around 50 participants.

Attached you will find the agenda for our 3 day workshop. Most presentations will be 20 minutes in length followed by 10 minutes for discussion. The agenda is almost final, but some minor changes may still occur in the coming days. The best source of information about the workshop is our website (<http://www.ornl.gov/sci/fed/PMTS10/>). Please visit the workshop website frequently over the next few days to make sure that you are informed about any changes in the workshop agenda. All pertinent information about the workshop can be found on the website, such as: information on registration, updates about the workshop, as well as hotel accommodations. The website will be your best resource for information about the workshop. If you need any additional information about the workshop then please contact Dr. Ted Biewer (biewertm@ornl.gov), and we will try to accommodate your needs.

We look forward to your participation in the PMI Test Stand Workshop at ORNL. Please contact Dr. Ted Biewer, if you have questions.

Sincerely,

Donald L. Hillis
