

Dr. Rearden received his Ph.D. in nuclear engineering from Texas A&M University in 1999. He has experience developing and utilizing software for nuclear safety analysis for a broad range of applications. These applications include power reactors, research reactors and plutonium disposition. His recent research has focused on the development of sensitivity analysis techniques using Monte Carlo methods.