

Grant Opportunities for 501(c)(3) Organizations

BACKGROUND: For more than 75 years, Oak Ridge National Laboratory (ORNL) has proudly called East Tennessee home. With the support of our neighbors and partners, we have accomplished great things. We connected nuclear power to the grid for the first time, made major discoveries in human and environmental genetics, developed new materials critical for producing energy around the globe, and built the fastest supercomputers and most powerful neutron sources in the world to solve the toughest science problems.

Today, ORNL is one of the largest employers in the region, with more than 5,000 staff members, and growing. A global leader in scientific research and development, ORNL attracts thousands of guest researchers and other visitors each year and partners with industry to bring game-changing technologies to the marketplace and boost American competitiveness. ORNL is also committed to supporting the surrounding community through volunteer efforts and funding.

Through our Community Engagement initiatives, we are committed to improving local economic development and education programs while making scientific understanding and career opportunities accessible with public tours, STEM programs, and internships. Throughout our Employee Giving platforms, we support ORNL employees who strive to give back to their communities and the causes that mean the most to them.

FUNDING PRIORITIES: The ORNL Community Engagement strategy includes financial gifts to nonprofits that fall under a finite number of categories.

- STEM education—Inspire the next generation of breakthroughs in scientific discovery by getting students engaged in learning through science, technology, engineering, and math. Funding organizations that promote STEM opportunities throughout the region is the highest priority for supporting communities throughout East Tennessee.
- Community legacy initiatives—Providing funds for efforts that create a far-reaching and long lasting impact on the community has been an ORNL priority for decades. Partners who can demonstrate the ability to make a positive difference in the overall health and economic vitality of East Tennessee are invited to apply for grant funding.
